Added Since We Last Talked...

From the Live Response Series hosted by Al Ruechel comes another great DVD produced by the National Terrorism Preparedness Institute at St. Petersburg College. This program, one hour in length, is entitled “When Will Our Schools be Safe Again? Crisis Management for School-Based Incidents” and was aired in May 2010. I hope you’ll come by and check this out.

I am also happy to report that we have added three new DVDs from In the Line of Duty. These new titles, from Volume 13 of the series, include: “Goose Creek Shooting/Cross-Jurisdictional Response” (program 3); “Domestic Violence Response/Update: KC Cops in Shootout” (program 4); and “Investigating and Prosecuting Domestic Violence/Cop Walks into Armed Robbery” (program 5). All three new DVDs are ready to be circulated to our staff.

In case you missed an e-mail that went out late last month, the library has added the following new resources:

- The Mounting Threat of Domestic Terrorism: al Qaeda and the Salvadoran Gang MS-13 by Cynthia L. Starita (363.325 STA)
- American Swastika: Inside the White Power Movement’s Hidden Spaces of Hate by Pete Simi and Robert Futrell (305.8 SIM)
- The Ground Truth: the Untold Story of America Under Attack on 9/11 by John Farmer (975.5 FAR)
- The Test of Our Times: America Under Siege...and How We Can Be Safe Again by Tom Ridge (363.325 RID)
- The War on Terrorism: 21st Century Perspectives edited by Stephen Gale, Michael Radu and Harvey Sicherman (363.325 WAR)
- Handbook on Criminal Justice Responses to Terrorism—United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (364 HAN)
- Patrol Response to Contemporary Problems: Enhancing Performance of First Responders through Knowledge and Experience edited by Cpt. John A. Kolman (363.2 PAT)

- Business Continuity Management: Building an Effective Incident Management Plan by Michael Blyth (658.4 BLY)

We have also acquired the following important DVDs:

- 102 Minutes that Changed America (DVD 975.5 ONE)
- World's Most Dangerous Gang (National Geographic) (DVD 364.1 WOR)

Don't forget...

In addition to those DVDs that provide visual interest and valuable information for your classes, the library also has other useful resources that will help you in your instruction. The new books that are added throughout the year (like the ones listed above) are great sources for current information that you can use in your teaching. We also add various reports, research papers, and journal articles to the collection that can be valuable to your students. And, finally, we subscribe to the Criminal Justice Periodicals Index that provides you with access to several hundred journal titles. With the click of just a few buttons, you have a way in to the current literature of law enforcement and corrections.

So when you think information, think about the wide variety of resources that can help provide that information for you.

More to come

There are more new items that have arrived or will be arriving in the very near future. Since I can't put all of them into this newsletter, stay tuned for the next issue that will keep you informed about what else is new on our shelves.

Easy Reading

Do you like mysteries? How about science fiction or fantasy? You can find those and many other leisure reads here at the PCTC library. It's more convenient to stop here and pick up a book than it is to add the public library or Barnes and Noble to your weekly rounds.

So stop in, check out a book, and put your feet up in your den, on your deck, or at the beach!

To leave you with a bit of library humor ...

“Two trucks loaded with a thousand copies of Roget's Thesaurus collided as they left a New York publishing house last week, according to the Associated Press. Witnesses were stunned, startled, aghast, taken aback, stupefied, appalled, surprised, shocked and rattled.” (attributed to Alan Schlein and retrieved from <http://marylaine.com/exlibris/cool.html> on 6/21/10)

Have a safe, enjoyable, and restful remainder of the summer!
